Bluebird Island

Key: D

My ship set sail to Blue-bird Island and slowly drifted out to sea; Her silver sails to cross the ocean my lover's lonely heart set free. Then out across the waves the blue-birds came one day out o'er the silver sea your message brought to me. To sail my ship of love along the moon-lit bay, and anchor in the harbor of your heart.

The trade-winds there on Blue-bird Island soon dried her lonely tears away. The treasure I found broken hearted was locked within my heart to stay. My ship set stay.
