Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand

Music: John B. Dykes, 1823-1876
Words: Hanry Alford, 1810-1871

Originally in Ab maj.

1. Ten thousand times ten thousand, in sparkling raimants bright, the ringing of a thousand harps be speaks the triumph nigh! O opened wide the golden gates, and let the victors in.

2. What rush of hal le juhahs fills the earth and sky! What knitting severed friendships up, where partings are no more! Then eyes with joy shall sparkle, that brimmed with tears of late, Or -

3. O then what raptured greetings on Canaan's happy shore! What no more! Then their fight with death and sin; Flung joy, for all its former woes, a thousand fold repaid.

Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand

Music: John B. Dykes, 1823-1876
Words: Hanry Alford, 1810-1871

Originally in Ab maj.